About Crissy

Crissy is licensed to practice law in North Carolina and in the United States District Court for the Western District of North Carolina. Her practice areas include estate planning, estate administration, trust administration, taxation, and corporate law.

Crissy received her B.A. from Rutgers University in 2013, graduating Phi Beta Kappa, and received her J.D. from Wake Forest University in 2016, receiving the Outstanding Female Law Graduate award.

Crissy is the past president and a current member of the Estate Planning Council of Winston-Salem. She currently serves on the Board of Directors of Financial Pathways of the Piedmont and as a Leadership Team member for the Winston-Salem chapter of Adult Children of Aging Parents. She is also the supervising attorney for Wake Law Pro Bono Wills Project. Crissy is a member of the estate planning & fiduciary law and tax sections of the North Carolina bar Association, as well as a member of the Forsyth County Women Attorneys Association, Forsyth County Bar Association, and American Bar Association.

Crissy enjoys travelling, reading, watching movies, crafting, live music, and yoga. Of her most memorable trip, Crissy says this: While visiting family and friends over the holidays when I was 23 years old, I had the opportunity to go on a few flights with a friend of mine who is a pilot. We flew in a small plane above our hometown at the Jersey shore one day, pointing out some of our favorite landmarks. On a particularly clear night, we flew up to New York City and traced the Hudson River through Manhattan. It was the evening before Thanksgiving Day, so busy travelers lit up the highways and the city streets. Who would have thought traffic could be beautiful? The views from above were breathtaking and it is an experience I will always remember.
